Linkage (The Narrows of Time Series) Jay J. Falconer When the Future Hunts the Past, Humanity is Doomed . . .

Budding physicist Lucas Ramsay was sure his reactor would change history. He was sure everyone would chant his name.

Unfortunately for the human race, he was right.

When his antigravity experiment succeeds in a way he never imagined, the planet is brought to its knees by an unstoppable force that crosses time and space to systematically exterminate all life on Earth.

Grid failures, anarchy, and murder are just the start when the planet is thrown into chaos.

But just when Lucas thinks the nightmare couldn't get any worse, he learns he's been maneuvered into the middle of an intergalactic war, one where perception is measured on a planetary scale.

Nothing is as it appears to be, challenging his faith in science and in reality.
