Fiction. Finding a dead mouse in the lab is not usually such a big deal. But when the lab is a Biosafety Level-3 containment facility designed to keep things in and out, and when the mouse has a brain tumor that fluoresces under blue light, it's time to start worrying. When graduate students start glowing, then it's time to panic. Especially when they could be spreading a mutant virus in ways you can only guess. An academic satire that tackles timely issues, from biosafety breaches to fraudulent science that preys on the most desperate.
