The Collected Poems of Alistair Te Ariki Campbell Alistair Te Ariki Campbell

The Collected Poems of Alistair Te Ariki Campbell is the definitive edition of one of the most important bodies of work in New Zealand poetry. Based on a spiral-bound manuscript entitled ‘Complete Poems 1947–2007’ found among Campbell’s papers after his death, this is his most substantial collection to date and the first to be published in hardback since 1981. Six thematic sections map the work: 1. Of Wild Places — celebrated early lyrics set among rugged South Island and Kapiti Coast landscapes; 2. Tongareva to Aotearoa — Campbell’s ground-breaking turn to his Polynesian side; 3. Love Poems; 4. War Poems — powerful sequences exploring his father’s Gallipoli experiences and the story of the Maori Battalion; 5. Poets in Our Youth — autobiographical poems in letter form; and 6. Looking at Kapiti — poems of everyday life in Pukerua Bay. ‘The Polynesian and the European strains in Campbell’s personality and work are inseparable. Although his early poetry makes little mention of Polynesia, in its romantic and musical tone and its intense attachment to landscape it is hard not to detect something of those origins, while his later work, more directly Polynesian, nonetheless has the form and tone provided by an education in English and classical poetry.’ —Nelson Wattie, The Oxford Companion to New Zealand Literature
